Black Seed Oil

Black seed is, as the name implies, seeds from a plant called the Nigella sativa. Civilizations have used the seed to make medicine for over 2000 years, if not longer!

It was even discovered in the tomb of King Tut, amongst all the other riches he sought to take into the afterlife with him. The best part about it is that it's as important for your health now as it was for his back then!

Historically, black seed has been used for headaches, toothaches, nasal congestion, and intestinal worms. It has also been used for "pink eye" (conjunctivitis), pockets of infection (abscesses), and parasites. It is the perfect companion for cold and flu season, and a great supplement to keep on-hand any other time of the year, as well!
